THOUGHT FOR THE MONTH

June 2023

Dear All,

I'm writing this three days away from a very sad day for everyone at Earsdon Methodist Church. Sunday May 28th 2023 will see the last Sunday service at the Methodist Chapel. I know people have rich and deep-seated memories of the chapel. You must be so sad to see its closure. On behalf of everyone at St Alban's and St John's, our deepest sympathy and very best wishes. I hope it goes without saying that anyone reading this would always be very welcome to worship at St Alban's or St John's.

These are troubling times for the church, and the tide of faith is low. I don't (and should) know how our Roman Catholic sisters and brothers are doing. But the Church of England is facing its own challenges. I explained at St Alban's recently that our financial giving falls far short of a level that is self-sustaining. St Alban's and St John's receives a massive subsidy from the national church, and no-one is sure how long this can continue.

That's why the Church of England in the Deanery of Tynemouth is holding a special morning on Saturday June 10th. Called 'Shaping the Future', the morning will give lots of us the opportunity to come together and talk about the situation. The Bishop of Newcastle, Helen-Ann, will be with us and there are only a few places left. Do get in touch if you'd like to come – it's at Segedunum Roman Fort and Museum in Wallsend.

Each Deanery in the Diocese of Newcastle has been asked to come up with a three-year plan. There are many threads to this planning, but it's undeniable that 'cutting clergy posts' is part of the mood music. With this in mind, one of the headlines of our Deanery plan is 'developing the gifts of all God's people, not just the clergy'. We're not doing this just because it makes financial sense. We're doing it because the New Testament calls the local church 'the body of Christ'. A human body needs its lungs, eyes, knees, feet and hands. In just the same way, every member of our local churches can contribute unique gifts and skills. We need to move away from the model which says 'the vicar does it all and we just watch'.

So those coming on 10th June will hear about a Discipleship Course. A disciple isn't someone ancient with a beard looking down at you from a stained glass window. A disciple of Jesus is someone – anywhere, at any time – who is trying to live as Jesus intended. We'll hope to grow more Readers and Authorised Lay Ministers. At St Alban's we're delighted that Jo McEvedy is training to be a Reader – in effect 'a Lay Preacher'. And Jo will take her place alongside Ali Griffiths and Liz York, authorised by the diocese for pastoral work. As it's almost certain that in the future there will be fewer clergy to go around, it makes absolute sense to develop everyone's gifts. And this shouldn't be seen as a panic measure. On the contrary: the more our lay people develop and exercise their gifts and skills, the more we will look like the church described in the New Testament – a healthy body of Christ, where each member plays their full part.

As more lay people grow in confidence and experience, so expect to see more Services of the Word alongside the Eucharist. It's only relatively recently that the Church of England has moved to a model of 'Holy Communion every Sunday'. For centuries, this wasn't the case. While treasuring the richness of the Eucharist, there is space alongside it for acts of worship which are not communion services. 'Services of the Word' are authorised by the Church of England. They do not feature Holy Communion, so can be led by a lay person. As we think there are going to be fewer priests to go round, it makes sense to be developing a tradition of Services of the Word.

We pray that the tide of faith will turn again. Church History shows that there is absolutely no reason why it wouldn't. But there are things we can learn when the tide is low. I pray that the challenges we currently face will help us to become more like the church described in the New Testament.

With kind regards – and much fellow feeling to everyone at the Methodist Chapel,

Tim Mayfield (vicar, St Alban's Earsdon and St John's Backworth)

Church bulletin notices that didn't quite work...

The Revd John Adams spoke briefly, much to the delight of his audience.

The students will present Shakespeare's 'Hamlet' in the church on Friday at 7pm. The congregation is invited to attend this tragedy.

The outreach committee has enlisted 25 visitors to make calls on people who are not afflicted with any church.

Studying our wedding photos, my six-year-old asked, "Did you marry Dad because he was a vicar?"

"Not at all," I replied.

"Did you marry him because he was good-looking?"

"No, not that either," I replied.

"Did you marry him for his money?"

"Definitely not," I laughed. "He didn't have any."

"So," he concluded sadly, "you just felt sorry for him."

I burn about 2000 calories every time I put on fitted sheets by myself.

It's weird, being the same age as old people.

One who boasts of being a self-made person relieves the Lord of a lot of responsibility.

If you can't be kind, at least have the decency to be vague.

Living on Earth is expensive, but it does include a free trip around the sun every year.

You know that indestructible black box that is used on airplanes? Why don't they make the whole plane out of that stuff?

As long as there are exams, there will be prayer in schools.

WORDSEARCH

Each June, the Church of England holds its Petertide ordinations, to coincide with the feast day of the great apostle Peter, who led the Church at Pentecost. Simon had been a fisherman from Bethsaida, near the Sea of Galilee, when his brother Andrew introduced him to Jesus. When Simon made his famous confession of faith, that Jesus was the Christ, Jesus gave him a new name – Cephas, or Peter, which means rock. The ‘gates of hell’ would never prevail against Jesus’ Church, and He gave Peter the power of ‘binding and loosing’, and also the ‘the keys of the kingdom of heaven’. Peter witnessed the Transfiguration, the raising of the daughter of Jairus, and Jesus praying in Gethsemane. Peter betrayed Jesus but after the Resurrection, Jesus entrusted him to feed both the lambs and the sheep of Christ’s flock. Peter was the first apostle to work a miracle.

CHURCH VIEWS FOR JUNE 2023 FROM THE PARISH OF OUR LADY, STAR OF THE SEA

Celebrating the Coronation

The flower arrangements at Immaculate Heart of Mary are always a joy, but they were something even more special for the Mass for the Coronation – what could be more celebratory than greeting the new reign with red, white and blue!

Thirty years ago this month

While we look forward to a new reign in June 2023, let's take a quick look back to June 1993 when the foundation stone of Immaculate Heart of Mary Church was laid. It doesn't seem like thirty years – but then we've packed a lot into them.

It's June 1993, and Bishop Ambrose Griffiths lays the foundation stone of the present church with Fr. Brian Malia and Fr Aidan Pickering admiring his work.

The first church was a 'temporary' building put up in 1964 and guaranteed to last for twelve years. By 1993 the guarantee and the building had both run out of time.

At the end, it really was in sore need of replacement. But at least we were able to see our new church going up.

Eventually, for a short time, we even had two churches.....

....but when you see what we have now in this Parish of Our Lady Star of the Sea, you have to admit that nostalgia isn't what it used to be!

Knitting Hats for Ukraine

Balaclavas and beanies! Jo McEvedy and I are such busy bees having fun knitting head wear for the Ukraine soldiers and families, you can see two photograph samples beautifully modelled by Ali!

Up to date we have each made 5 balaclavas and 2 beanies, ready for the next local shipment to Kiev.

Tim thought it a good idea to share our achievements with you, trusting that it's not too long before we are made redundant.....until then, it's knitting needles at the ready.

(Many thanks to Janet Dobson, and of course to our long-suffering model, Ali.)

STRIPES

Maureen my lawnmower (I know, I know – who in their right mind gives their lawnmower a name?) is at least 16 years old and has done sterling service over the years. In January, I sent it for a well needed service in readiness for the grass growing season. It came back in good time and I stored it away in readiness for the first mowing, however when I eventually wanted to cut the lawn, the mower would not start! So back it went to the shop where Maureen was declared to be ‘temperamental’. Eventually after several attempts to sort the problem she came home and joy and rapture she works even better than before, and our lawn now has stripes.

Of course, there are some disadvantages with stripes. For instance, they have a very short shelf life; they do not fare well over night; rather like a very elaborate hair-do or a nicely made bed, something very disruptive happens when darkness falls, and they do not look their best at all in the morning.

In our previous house our neighbour had the best stripes on his lawn this side of Wimbledon and put mine to shame. You see, we both had lawns at the front of our houses, and he had a nice regular, oblong shaped lawn with stripes going lengthways, which he always cut in the same direction ~ and our lawn was on a curved drive and was more the shape of a bent banana. Try as I might I could not get our lawn to look anything like his. One problem was whether to try to get our stripes lengthways, which accentuate the bent shape of the lawn; or sideways, which made it look smaller and made it very hard to cut. I tried various methods, but none ever looked right. To make matters worse the lawn was full of moss and whatever I tried to remove it, nothing ever worked.

Our present garden including the lawn is fenced which means that it is only seen from our house, and even though the lawn stripes are reasonable and are not bowling green standard by any means there is nothing next to them for comparison. Yet I have decided that this is definitely not a reason to lower standards nor to give up putting stripes on the lawn. For now, I have no opportunity to ponder and worry about the other man's grass and Maureen and I have all the time needed just to enjoy what we have got ~ I really should try to apply this principle to other things too.

Wes Blakey

Marti's Final Musings

I haven't been feeling very well recently, but I couldn't miss the coronation party in the hall; I had looked forward to going for such a long time. Everyone looked fabulous in all their red, blue and white finery; and the food looked yummy! I wore my special coronation jumper that mum made for me to wear, which kept me lovely and warm. It was so good to see all my church friends who I love so much. I'm so sad that this will be my last musings. I've enjoyed writing my little updates for you all to read, but now it's time for a rest and cuddles with grandad and to see all our loved ones who have passed. I'll see you in the light.

Lots of heavenly love.

Marti xx

It is with unbelievable sadness to let you all know that Marti gained her angel wings at 4.30am on Monday 8th May 2023. She loved writing her musings and attending all church functions in an outfit to match. She is safe in God's hands but will be missed so much. Thank you for the many comments I received over the last 11 years telling me how much you enjoyed reading her exploits, and for all the love and support since her passing.

Much love
